Odds and Ends From the Wire

AT 68 WEDS MAID OF 25.

Rich Retired Boniface in Romance of June and December.
Atlantic City, April 1.—Another romance of June and December was consummated here, when Cornelius Kelly, aged sixty-eight, a wealthy resident of Chelsea and former hotel proprietor, married Miss Anna Fox, aged twenty-five, employed for some time as a maid at his handsomely-furnished cottage on North Chelsea Avenue.
Several years ago Kelly sold his hostelry, the Grand, at Atlantic and Michigan Avenues, to the Atlantic City Gas Company, for $60,000 in dollar bills.
The marriage ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock this morning, at the Star of the Sea Church, with Rev. P. J. Petri, pastor, officiating.

WON'T EAT SINCE MATE DIED.

Pine Fire Horse Manifests Extreme Grief at His Loss.
Pottstown, Pa., April 1.—Tom, one of a span of handsome grays used at the chemical apparatus of Good Will Fire Company, No. 1, broke a leg in his stall, and had to be killed.
His mate Jerry, with him ever since the horses were colts on a big farm, is pining in his stall and refuses to eat, though under the care of a veterinarian.
The pair was valued at $1,000.

HOURS UNDER MANIAC'S SPELL.

Wife Kept Motionless by Death Threat Till Help Came.
Atlantic City, April 1.—Charged with an attempt at murder, although he is suffering from insanity, Anthony Rulle, released only three weeks ago from the County Insane Asylum, is confined in a padded cell at the city jail.

For several hours yesterday he compelled his terror-stricken wife to remain perfectly motionless in their home, on Mississippi Avenue, threatening to cut her throat with a razor if she made any move to leave the house. When neighbors finally entered and distracted the attention of her crazed husband, Mrs. Rulle collapsed.

READS HER OWN OBITUARY.

Injured Woman Can't See How They Came to Kill Her.
Williamsport, Pa., April 1.—Mrs. Elizabeth Kline read the announcement of her death and arrangements for her funeral in a morning newspaper. The newspaper, according to her, stated that she had died from injuries received when moving a piece of furniture. She was injured and was unconscious for some hours, but is at a loss to know how she was mistaken for dead.

DENT IN THEIR ELOPEMENT.

Maternity Bride Haled to Court by Young Hubby on Assault Charge.

Atlantic City, April 1.—With his face bearing scars, which he alleges were inflicted by his bride of only a month, Jack Gould, aged twenty-three, and son of one of the wealthy and socially prominent families of the resort, appeared today before Magistrate Jagmetty as complaining witness in an action brought by the newspaper, battery against Mrs. Anne McFarland Gould, aged fifty, with whom he eloped a month ago to Pottsville, Pa., where they were married.
Mrs. Gould, who is proprietress of the Hotel New Payette, on South Carolina Avenue, assumed an indignant, motherly attitude toward her youthful husband, who appeared in court dressed in a natty business suit and wearing a huge white boutonniere. Gould charged that his motherly bride attacked him in a fit of jealousy toward a young woman staying at the New Payette, but this was emphatically denied by the defendant.
Neither of them had their witnesses in court, and Magistrate Jagmetty postponed the hearing until tomorrow.

POISON CARTOONS STIR TOWN.

Mysterious Source Again Pictures Hidden Page's in Residents' Lives.
Georgetown, Del., April 1.—Georgetown's mysterious cartoonist, who had the town in a turmoil a year ago with his pictures of intimate affairs in the lives of many of the residents, has renewed his campaign, a picture having been found posted in the corridor of the county courthouse, portraying scenes in the life of a business man and a young lady, in which names were handled rather freely. The picture made such a stir, the man involved announced that he was going to spend a considerable sum of money to find out who drew the picture and prosecute him.
The picture was rudely drawn, but in every case show subjects that would be the matter for a libel suit. Last year the picture appeared almost daily.

COUGHED UP STOLEN BILLS.

Said He Put Them in His Mouth by Mistake for Tobacco.
New York, April 1.—William Frazier was arraigned yesterday before Judge Beall in the City Court, charged with stealing $2 from a guest in a hotel in New York. Police Officer Foley testified that Frazier choked when placed under arrest and coughed up two $1 bills which the officer said he tried to swallow. Frazier told the judge that he took the money out of his pocket with his tobacco and that he put it in his mouth intending to take a chew. The story did not satisfy the judge and the man was found guilty.

ASKS DIVORCE BY MAIL.

Man Addresses the "Divorce Judge"—Expects Prompt Action.
Camden, N. J., April 1.—Addressed to "The Divorce Judge of Camden, N. J.," a letter in the mails yesterday was delivered to Vice-Chancellor Leaning in the Chancery Court. It was from St. Louis, and read:
Dear Judge: Please send me a divorce at once. I will need it, at 1 am about to move and want to marry again. I was married in Camden and hope you will send the divorce right away.
The writer was a man whose name the vice-chancellor would not make public.

GENERAL JONES DIES IN ARIZONA

Telegram Announces Death of Brilliant Civil War Officer of Confederacy.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Hampton, Va., April 1.—A telegram received here to-day announced the death last night in Prescott, Arizona, of Brigadier-General Thomas Jones, of the Confederate Army. General Jones was born at Pembroke, the country home of his distinguished father, Colonel George Booker Jones, on July 1, 1832. He entered the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1849, graduating from that institution in 1855. He was assigned to the regular cavalry and later made a captain. When the Civil War broke out, Captain Jones, like other true Virginians in the army, resigned his commission and came to his native State to fight for the cause of the Confederacy. He was made a Lieutenant-Colonel of cavalry and later colonel. Finally, in 1862, he was sent to Fort Caswell as the commandant of that fortification, and brevetted brigadier general. He remained at Fort Caswell until Lee's surrender. General Jones had a brilliant war record, and was recognized as a capable and brave officer. After the war General Jones returned here, where he engaged in business. In Cleveland's first administration he was appointed agent of the Shoshone Indian agency in Wyoming, and served in that capacity until two years ago, when ill health caused his resignation from the government service. He then went to Prescott to live with his son, Albert Jones.
Three sisters of General Jones, Mrs. Fannie Barry, Miss Lucy Jones and Miss Sallie Jones, reside here, while Mayor Thornton F. Jones is a nephew of the dead officer.
General Jones is survived by two sons, two daughters and his widow, who was Miss Minnie London.
It is expected that the remains of General Jones will be brought to his boyhood home here for burial. He was a brother of the late Pembroke

Jones and Captain George Booker Jones.

Conference Meets To-Day.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., April 1.—Two hundred members of the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, which meets here to-morrow morning, reached here this afternoon on one train. About 100 others are expected on the late night train. Tonight the members were entertained by a missionary program at the convention church.

Henderson Citizens Die.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Henderson, N. C., April 1.—Death has claimed two prominent old citizens of this town. The remains of J. T. Missillier, a former merchant of Henderson, arrived on Saturday and were interred in Elmwood. Mr. Missillier died at the Johnston-Willis Hospital, Richmond, on Friday. He was a former resident of Newbern, but had resided here over twenty years. He was about sixty years old. In same city K. W. Cogbill died last night. The remains were brought to Henderson. Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church. Mr. Cogbill leaves several sons and daughters, among whom is Mrs. Carrie Harris, of Henderson. Mr. Cogbill was about seventy-five years of age.
